Polyurethane vs. Wood Door Surrounds

Polyurethane

- Won't expand or contract in extreme temperatures.
- Resists moisture and insects, and will not rot, warp, crack or split.
- Quick and easy installation, with no need for a finish carpenter – saving you time and money.
- Little-to-no material waste; no additional labor needed for buildup.

Wood

- Changes in temperature can cause expansion and contraction.
- Susceptible to decay, insect infestation, water damage and rot.
- Can take up to four hours to install.
- Additional materials needed for buildup; labor is costly.

Additional Benefits of Therma-Tru® Door Surrounds

- Available in smooth or wood-grained options that can be painted or stained to complement the entry.
- Backed by the industry's most comprehensive lifetime limited warranty.
